

Employee Responsibility to Report

Employees, in general, have a responsibility to report incidents regarding sexual misconduct once they are informed by a complainant. Employees, (other than responsible employees) before getting the perspective from the employee/student, the employee/student will be made aware of the requirement to report the situation, including identity, to the Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will discuss the employee's/student's options, including confidentiality.